

Basket – Game Rules

Playing with

10 players. Ages: 4 and up.

The Game Contains

50 cards and game rules.

The Object of the Game

To remember the longest list of items which have been put in “a basket”.

How to Play

Shuffle the cards and place them in a face-down draw pile at the center. The youngest player plays first. This player turns over the top card of the draw pile and places it face up next to it. (Opening “the basket”). While doing so, the player should say out loud: “I put a ... in the basket.” Feeling the blank by naming the item he just put in. The turn then goes to the next player (clockwise) who has to add another item and so on. For example: The first player started with bananas and said: “I put bananas in the basket” The second player added avocado and says: “I put bananas and avocado in the basket”. The third player added pasta and said: “I put bananas, avocado and pasta in the basket” ... and so on. The list gets longer and longer as the players keep filling the basket. Each player must place the item card on top of the basket pile so always only the last item is visible.

End of a round

A round ends when one player fails to remember and repeat the complete list in the right order. When this happens, the player who played before him, (who was the last to recall the list), wins the basket. The player who failed, starts a new basket and a new round.

Last Round

The game ends when the last card has been put in the last basket. If the player who put the last card repeats the list correctly, he wins the last basket. The game ends and the winner is the player who holds the most cards.

Have fun
